Everyone is born with a bundle!

Inside the bundle are God-given gifts.

How we use those gifts gives meaning and purpose to our lives.

8

We can use what's in our bundle...

- To make the world a better place.
- To exploit others and make the world a crueler place.
- Or we can take our gifts for granted.

We will be held accountable for how we use our own gifts and how we help others recognize and use their gifts.

Think about your parish...

- What is the vision?
- Who makes decisions?
- Is the parish spiritually vertical or horizontal?
- Is there agreement on involving others?

Why We Do What We Do...

- Internal versus External motivation.
- Compliance leads to defiance.
- Help people motivate themselves.
- Encouraging experimentation, new ideas, and self-initiation.

One size does not fit all....

When you're trying to get people involved you have to remember that people have different gifts, different skills, and different styles of doing things.

- Gifts are in-born traits and talents that are unique to an individual.
 - Gifts cannot be acquired. They are things that people do instinctively.
 - When people use their God-given gifts they feel a sense of purpose and meaning in life.

- Skills are abilities that can be acquired through study, practice & hard work.
 - People can learn a skill but they won't excel at it unless it enhances a God-given talent.
 - When people develop skills based on their God-given talents, they feel a sense of accomplishment.

- Style is how people prefer to use their gifts and talents.
- When people operate within their preferred style, they are in their “comfort zone.”
- When people are outside their style, they may feel tension or frustration.

2. What are the facts?
3. How can I do this?

Define what needs to be done

Make sure people understand exactly what they are expected to do.

Be clear about how much time it will take.

Be clear about how long the person will be involved.

Provide the help they need to be successful.
